 Frederick C. Nicolas Primary Examiner Art Unit 3754

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: applicants argue that the reference of Bublewitz fails to teach "a fastening connection" according to claim 21. Applicants further state that "the mixing helix of Bublewitz abuts the transverse wall (60)". The examiner disagrees. MPEP 2111 claim Interpretation Broadest Reasonable Interpretation states: "claims must be given their broadest reasonable interpretation". During patent examination, the pending claims must be "given the broadest reasonable interpretation consistent with the specification". According to Merriam-Webster Dictionary, the definition of "fastened" encompasses "to attach or to make fast and secure, to cause to hold together". In figure 7, Bublewitz shows the mixing helix is fastened to the transverse wall, and on page 6, line 26 onto page 7, line 1 of the applicants' arguments dated 1/29/2007, the applicants admit that "the mixing helix abuts the transverse wall 60). Since the claimed terminology is broad enough to encompass "to cause to hold together or to attach or to make fast and secure or to support (abut), then the fastened of the mixing helix to the transverse wall of Bublewitz meets at least one the above definition. Therefore, the claim limitation is fairly met.
